

AMENDMENTS TO THE ABSTRACT

Please amend the abstract in the manner set forth below:

~~Briefly, the present invention comprises, in one embodiment, a~~ A printing method, ~~comprising~~ includes the steps of: receiving data at a printer; detecting a barcode in the received data; translating the barcode to an external network address; sending on the Internet or other external network an access request for a document to the external network address; retrieving the document from the external network address; and printing the document. In a further aspect of the present invention, the step is provided of printing the document inside a master document.